WAR RUMORS IN THE OCCIDENT

Japan and Russia Are Growling at Each Other and Talking of War.

CHINA ASKS HELP

Would Have the Mikado Pit His Forces with the Russian Bear Next.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)

London, Oct. 8.—The strained relations between Russia and Japan over the Manchurian question are rapidly approaching the ultimatum stage, and apparently adroit diplomacy will be required to avert war.

Seasonal developments make it clear that the two powers, in spite of the perfunctory assurance recently made public, are drifting rapidly toward hostilities.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Kobe, Japan, telegraphs that Baron von Rosen on Oct. 4 presented a note to the Japanese government contending that Japan had no right to interfere in the question of the evacuation of Manchuria, which solely concerned Russia and China.

Partition of Korea.

The note further proposed the partition of Korea and suggested that Japan should take the southern half and Russia the northern provinces.

The note was discussed by a council of ministers Oct. 5 and Marquis Yamagata, commander-in-chief of the army, had consultations with the ministers of war and marine. The Japanese government then sent a reply to Baron von Rosen, rejecting the Russian proposal.

Following this it is declared that Russia presented to Japan definite demands concerning Manchuria and Korea. These demands have not yet been answered, but the extraordinary activity in Japanese army and navy circles points to a peremptory rejection.

China Appeals to Japan.

Russia, it is stated also, has formally notified the Chinese foreign office, through Paul Lassar, the czar's minister at Peking, that Russia will never evacuate Manchuria unless her latest demands are granted.

China's reply to the notification, according to dispatches from Yokohama, was an appeal to Japan for assistance.

Troops Are Asked For.

Yokohama, Oct. 8.—The Japanese residents of Wiju have filed a petition with the foreign office at Tokio asking that a Japanese warship and troops be sent to protect their interests in view of the menacing attitude of Russia. The reply of Japan is not yet known. Wiju is an important Korean town on the frontier of China, and a great depot for trade with that country.

The press which reported the fortification by Russia of Yungampho, on the Korean bank of the Yalu river, considered this action as a possible casus belli as being an infringement of Chinese integrity. The report, however, is not confirmed officially.

The temporary Korean minister for foreign affairs has been relieved at his own request.

Conference at Tokio.

Baron von Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, had another conference with Baron Komura, the Japanese foreign minister. The Japanese premier, Viscount Katsura, had an audience with the emperor. It is now feared that the promised concessions on the part of Russia are insufficient to offset her continuous menace to Korea, nor is the China-Japanese commercial treaty thought adequate to compensate for a permanent Russian occupation.

A rumor current says that definite Russian demands concerning Manchuria and Korea have been presented to Japan by Baron von Rosen.

HORSE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Animal Killed by Electric Current Eaten by Dogs.

The horse that was electrocuted Tuesday evening was still lying on the road near where he had fallen in his tracks, this morning, and people in the vicinity kept the telephone at the city hall busy by removing asking that the animal be removed. Some dogs had begun to eat the carcass and the sight was not particularly inviting. This noon arrangements were under way for the removal of the body.

Mad Man at Beloit: Sheriff Appleby went to Beloit today to get a blacksmith by the name of English who has become violently insane. Last night the man broke all the furniture in the lock-up which he could lay his hands on and created a terrible disturbance. He will remain in the county jail over night and will be taken to Mendota tomorrow.

During September there were 129 deaths from the battleship "Oregon" or one man in every four of the crew.

ECCENTRICITY DOESN'T INVALIDATE MAN'S WILL

Seeking Enchanted Treasure Is No Indication That Testator Is Incompetent in the Eyes of the Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—The state supreme court has declared valid the will of Joseph Walt of Indianapolis, an eccentric character. Walt wandered over his neighbors' farms trying to find enchanted treasure by means of a ball hung on a string, which he expected would whirl when he reached the spot where the treasure was. He told many weird stories of his experiences.

Judge Hadley, who wrote the decision, said: "Many scholarly and successful business men sincerely believe in spiritualism and of being able through a medium, to talk to the spirits of departed friends. Others believe in Christian Science, others in clairvoyance, others in the transmigration of souls and others in witchcraft. Mental phenomena is as various as the hues of an autumnal forest."

"Under the law as now settled, testamentary capacity is not determined by what one believes nor by the character of the horrid tales he can tell."

NO SURPRISES IN FOOTBALL SCORES

Every Team Did Just as They Were Expected To Do and Won Their Games Handily.

Yesterday football scores surprised no one. The eastern results were without exception good sized scores with goose eggs recorded for the opponents. Yale ran up 33 scores against Wesleyan, Harvard was even better with 53 to Bates 0 and Princeton took the honors by defeating Gettysburg college 68 to 0. Columbia toyed with Hamilton and ran up 29 and stopped. Pennsylvania took in the Haverford college by 53 points to their zero and Amherst whalloped Bowdoin in its annual 23 to 0. Williams scored 17 on Massachusetts State college, Swarthmore played Lehigh a close game only winning by one touch down in a score of 10 to 5. Dartmouth was too much for Vermont and beat them 36 to 0.

The West. Chicago did not do as well as Stagg had looked for. That is his stage was not as big as Mr. Alonzo would have liked. Cornell played a plucky game but went down in defeat by a total of 23 to 0. Northwestern had the scare of its life and Coach McCormick has decided his team must go back to meat if they wish to be anywhere in the football world. The totals were 18 to 11. Illinois State university was very firm with its other branch, the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, and administered a gentle rebuke to them at darning to play football with the mother school. Forty to zero was the score. Minnesota is evidently acting under Coach Williams' instructions and rolled up sixty-five against Hamlin, never giving their opponents any chance of scoring. Wisconsin had no game. They play Lawrence Saturday and Coach Curtis is keeping his Badgers closely caged for practice work. Michigan also was quiet and waits for Saturday's game.

Are Angry Merchants are provoked over the talk of taking the Minnesota Thanksgiving game to Milwaukee instead of playing it at Madison. They have signed a petition to this effect and doubtless will have much to complain of if the game is taken away from the Capital City. As a money-making proposition it is a good thing but as far as sentiment goes the game should be placed in Madison.

RUSSIAN NOW READY

Is Making Preparations for War, If Is to Come—Sends Large Fleet of Warships to the Manchurian Squadron—London's Talk on Question.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)

London, Oct. 8.—Russia's answer to the Japanese movement of troops into Korea is answered by the dispatch of a mighty fleet to the same quarter. Telegrams received here late today report ninety Russian warships have arrived at Ma-San-Pho, Southern Korea, and are anchored within a short distance of the Japanese fleet sent there some days ago. Additional warlike news is the announcement that brigades of Russian troops were hurriedly marched to the Korean boundary line, where they are now encamped. With both sides ready for war negotiations are proceeding at Tokio relative to Korea's future.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Regardless of whether Russia today removes its troops from Manchuria or breaks her promise this government will at present go no further than to maintain the United States has equal trading rights in Manchuria with Russia or any other power.

SUBMARINE VESSEL RAMS TORPEDO BOAT

Dives Under Surface to See How Near It Can Come to Dahlgren and Nearly Sinks It.

New York, Oct. 8.—The submarine torpedo boat Shark during a trial at Greenport, L. I., rammed the torpedo boat Dahlgren, which with its crew of seven men barely escaped sinking.

After a dive under the surface the Shark came up within twenty feet of the Dahlgren, and before the engines could be reversed crashed into the port side of the vessel.

A hole four feet long was torn through the plates of the torpedo boat, while the only damage to the Shark was the tearing of the paint from its bow.

Lieut. C. A. Nelson, who commanded the Shark, said that the strong ebb tide made the Shark momentarily uncontrollable. He had figured to run to the surface a short distance from the Dahlgren and prove the Shark's ability to run close to an enemy and then back quickly away.

THEY OBJECT TO A MORMON IN SENATE

National W. C. T. U. Send Out Petitions to Prevent Election of Smoot in U. S. Senate.

A petition has been received by the local W. C. T. U. for the purpose of preventing if possible the seating of Reed Smoot of Utah, to a seat in the United States senate. The circular sent out by the national association of the W. C. T. U. and he local society is instructed to secure as many signatures as possible. Janesville ministers will be asked to sign the petition for their congregations. When it has been filled out, the paper will be returned to the officers of the national society and as all the branch organizations and other church clubs will receive like petitions, they will be likewise signed and all will be forwarded to congress. The fact that Smoot is a Mormon and has two wives is the cause of the stand taken by the W. C. T. U.

COWBOYS CROWN GIRL QUEEN OF THE RANGE

Indian Territory Lasso Fops Three Steers in Record Time, Defeating All Competitors.

South McAlester, I. T., Oct. 3.—Lullie Mulhall, 17 years old, and a friend of President Roosevelt, won the $1,000 steer roping contest here, defeating the best-known cowboys in the Southwest.

The conditions were that three steers were to be roped and tied in the fastest time, and the contest was open to all. Miss Mulhall threw her first steer and tied it up in 43 seconds. The second required 1 minute and 11 seconds, while the third was roped, thrown, and tied in the remarkably fast time of 40 seconds.

The strenuous young woman was enthusiastically cheered by an army of ranchmen, cowboys, Indians and others who witnessed the performance, while the vanquished ropers acknowledged their defeat by proclaiming her the "Queen of the Range."

Miss Mulhall's home is at Mulhall, I. T., where her father, who is the live stock agent for the Frisco railroad, has a mammoth ranch. She is as much at home in the saddle and on the range as the average American girl is in the drawing room.

Miss Mulhall is young to have achieved such distinction, having only recently passed her seventeenth birthday.

LIPTON TROPHY FOR BIG RACE

Sir Thomas Offers Hand-some Cup for a Long Race Between Large Boats.

TEST SEAMANSHIP

Yachts of All Nations Can Compete and Show Efficiency of Crews.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)

New York, Oct. 8.—Sir Thomas Lipton is to prove his ardor for international yacht racing. He desires to put the constructive ability of Herreshoff and other designers of both the old and new world to a test, and also to try out the seamanship of sailors of all nations in crossing the ocean. A $2,500 cup, a perpetual challenge trophy, for which the nations of the world may compete annually, is to be the offer of the Irish baronet, who has thrice accepted defeat at the hands of American yachtsmen.

Sir Thomas is at the Waldorf-Astoria, and it was there that his plans became known.

International Test.
"It is my desire," said Sir Thomas, "to test thoroughly the qualities, not alone of the yachting craft of any nation whose subjects wish to compete, but the seamanship of those who man the yacht."

"This will be no trial of racing machines designed for special purposes, but to place in competition those wholesome and able vessels which are fit to be called yachts. Strength of construction in hull and in rig will be demanded to cope successfully with the conditions likely to be met in such a race, and those qualities which go to make up an all-around yacht will be called for."

To Stimulate Yachting.
"I think the offer of such a trophy will do more to stimulate a proper yachting spirit than any other thing that lies in my power to do, notwithstanding any efforts to capture the America's cup, which, by the way, I have not entirely abandoned. As I have said, if a designer can show me the possibility of a ninety-footer to beat Herreshoff I will try again."

An ocean race from Sandy Hook to The Needles, a distance of about 3,000 miles, probably next May, will be the first contest for the Lipton $2,500 cup. It will be open to any and all sloops, schooners and yawls, no matter where owned. It will be a race of boat against boat without time allowance, and 3,000 miles of the Atlantic Ocean will be the course.

Kaiser May Have Entry.
Sir Thomas has not made formal announcement of the offer of the cup, and it is very likely this will be made public through the Atlantic or New York Yacht Club. The Atlantic Club may be chosen, as Commodore Tod of the club has been the leader in promoting races for ocean-going yachts. With the actual offer of the $2,500 cup by Sir Thomas, it is also likely that a $1,000 cup for the second fastest ocean racer will be offered by the club.

The entries for this race will bring together yachtsmen of all the world. Emperor William of Germany is cracked on as likely to enter his crack schooner Meteor, built in this country and christened by Miss Alice Roosevelt. A number of English, French and German yachts are also counted on. The United States will probably have among its representatives the schooner Ingomar, winner of the last ocean race; Endymion, Hildegarde, Fleur de Lis and Thistle. Then, too, Vigilant, Navahoe and even Shamrock III, and Reliance may be tuned up and sent on the hard run.

BEST MEETING EVER HELD

Enthusiasm for the Temperance Cause Shown at Last Meeting of the Murphy League.

"The last meeting of the Fravela Murphy league, which was held at the Y. M. C. A., was the best that has ever been held," said J. H. Jones yesterday. "There was a large attendance and the men were unusually enthusiastic over the cause." C. D. Child presided at the gathering and the Rev. Denison gave a fine talk. Some of the best testimonials ever heard in Janesville were given by Charles Brady, Webster Peters and several others. There was also good singing by the quartette.

Art League: The regular monthly meeting of the Art league will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the science room of the high school building. Prof. Wright of Beloit college will give his first lecture before the Art league at four o'clock, his subject being Art and the Greek Myths.

BULLE IN SENT FROM UNIVERSITY

MILK FEVER IN THE COW IS DISCUSSED.

TREATMENT OF THE PATIENT

It is Especially Designed for the Farmers and Stock Breeders—Valuable Facts.

Milk fever, technically called parturient paresis or parturient apoplexy, is characterized by the following symptoms:

The newly calved adult cow that has had an easy labor and "cleaned" promptly, suddenly becomes restless, sticks her tongue out, refuses feed, steps up and down with her hind feet, gets a "kick" in her neck, "wabbles" when exercised, and finally goes down paralyzed, with milk, urine and manure suppressed, tucks her head to her side, snores loudly, becomes bloated, unconscious, and lies stretched out upon her side until death occurs in from three hours to three days. Some cows show delirium, grapple and point the head upon the ground. The majority of cases, however, are quiet, and have no fever, the temperature is more often below normal.

Cause.—The exact cause of milk fever has not been determined but Dr. J. Schmidt, a Danish veterinarian, points out that the disease may be due to poisonous products derived from tissue changes taking place in the udder, while experience teaches that certain conditions apparently render a cow of the proper age peculiarly susceptible. A few of these aggravating causes are: hot, badly ventilated, filthy stalls; heavy feeding upon grain foods (concentrates) right up to the time of calving; lack of exercise; excessive use of succulent foods; sudden plethora induced by new grass in spring; hemorrhage; immediate and complete removal of the first milk produced after calving; or immediate removal of the newborn calf.

Natural Prevention.—It is safe to assert that the disease may be absolutely prevented by the adoption of the following simple, natural methods. Start cow weeks prior to calving and feed upon dry hay, bran mash and a little flaxseed meal, but no corn, corn meal, shorts, middlings, oatmeal, gluten meal, malt sprouts, or any similar concentrate. One month from calving increase the amount of flaxseed meal mixed in the bran mash to insure keeping the bowels freely open. If there is a tendency to constipation, despite the increased amount of oil meal, dissolve two ounces of epsom salts in the mash or drinking water once or twice daily as required. One week before calving double the amount of oilmeal daily, and give at calving, if the cow is constive, one pound of epsom salts, one ounce of ground ginger root and one ounce of saltpeter with a cupful of molasses in two quarts of warm water, at one dose, slowly and carefully from a long-necked bottle. During all this time the cow is to be given ample outdoor exercise daily to keep her blood in full circulation, all the organs of the body in proper order and her muscles full and strong.

This method of preventive treatment applies equally to the susceptible cow whose calf is expected when green grass is in its "spring flush." She is to be kept in a dry yard and there to have the same food and care given the cow about to calve prior to the advent of grass. When calf comes allow it to suckle for 3 days or draw off some of the milk frequently by hand; do not milk clean at first.

Medicinal Prevention.—Unless the cow has suffered a previous attack of the disease predisposing her to a second attack and necessitating larger doses of medicine, it will be found safe and sufficient in average cases to give her as a preventive one-half drachm of iodide of potash twice daily for three days, then three times daily during the week preceding parturition, and two drachms the moment it is observed that she is about to calve. Where the cow is fat she may also have two drachms immediately after parturition. While this plan succeeds it checks milk flow after calving hence is somewhat objectionable.

Treatment.—Place cow attacked with milk fever in a box stall or in a shady place in summer time when out of doors.

Prop her up by means of bags filled with straw so that she must lie upon her sternum (breast bone). Keep her head up in the same manner. Tap the pouch with trocar and cannula if she is bloated when found. Give no drenches of medicine by the mouth. Strip away the milk; wash the udder clean with warm water and soap, adding zenoleum to make a 2 per cent. solution. This done place the udder upon a clean rubber sheet to prevent soiling. By means of a five-foot length of quarter-inch rubber hose, in one end of which has been inserted a large funnel tube and the other a large funnel, infuse very slowly into each teat in turn half a pint of a milk-warm solution of 2 drachms of iodide of potash in one quart of freshly boiled water. Then rub the udder well once an hour until the liquid has been absorbed.

Infusion of the udder with pure oxygen gas gives even better results than the iodide of potash treatment.

In addition to the above treatment syringe a gallon of soapy warm water into the rectum every four hours; remove the urine by means of a catheter at least twice daily; repeat the infusion of iodide of potash solution if the cow is not up inside of twenty-four hours. Do not milk in less than six hours. Give by the mouth one drachm of fluid extract of nux vomica in a tablespoonful of water every six hours. Turn the cow partly every four hours so that the hind leg can be pulled forward and outward to retain her on the chest. Let her drink when she can do so and feed a soft mash when she becomes conscious. Feed her carefully for a few days and as a rule this will be the last of the treatment necessary. A. S. Alexander, V. S.; Veterinarian Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station.

SALES OF POSTS ARE INCREASING

Cement Hitching Posts Are Now Favorites—Ten Cars of Line Posts Weekly.

Cement hitching posts are evidently going to be big sellers for the demand for them has taxed the output of the cement post factory who say that they are sold as fast as made and seasoned. They make a handsome post for the purpose, being heavy, yet trim and shapely while the brass ring at the top adds to the effect. On account of their thickness at the base and gradual tapering to the upper end they are much stronger, and set more firmly than a slim metal rod.

The men at the head of the company are much encouraged over the outlook, for while the sales have necessarily been slow at first they are gradually steadily increasing as the value of the product becomes known. Ten carloads and over of the fence posts have been shipped from the big plant each week for the last month, and such sales are considered the best indication of the company's success, especially as no complaints have been made. Orders are daily coming in from all parts of the country for the line fence posts.

DO GOOD WORK FOR THE SICK

Money Raised by the Relief Corps Used for Noble Purposes—Give Supper Saturday.

One hundred and twelve visits to sick people have been made in the last year by the committee of the Woman's Relief Corps that is appointed for that purpose. $127.35 has been expended for relief and other donations for good purposes have been made by the corps so that the work done by the corps members is worthy of high commendation. The annual report of the secretary for the year ending October 1st has just been made showing the standing of the organization. The work for these purposes has all been raised by the many suppers given and this plan is about the only means of revenue so the work of the corps should have general support. The next supper arranged for will occur Saturday evening and the officers hope there will be a liberal attendance.

STATE LIBRARY HAS A KITCHEN

Rooms Little Known of in Building at Madison for the Employees.

There are some departments in the State Historical Library at Madison of which the public knows little or nothing, but which are none the less interesting. Among these is the photographic dark room on the fourth floor. This is a small room containing all the necessary equipments for the developing of pictures and is used mostly by one of the members of the library who is an artist in his line and who turns out much excellent work.

Other rooms that are not widely known to the general public are a kitchen and dining room on the third floor which contributes much to the comfort and convenience of the members of the library staff. An employee who lives at some distance from the building and cannot go out to dinner can bring a lunch and cook coffee in this kitchen. All the cooking is done by electricity and there is as complete an outfit of culinary apparatus in the cupboard adjoining these apartments. Besides these conveniences there are shelves and tables and other furniture that help to make the life of the librarians more comfortable.

FLORA DE VOSS CO. IN "PRINCESS LOU"

Southern Comedy-Drama Will Be Presented Tonight—"Golden Giant Mine" Last Night.

"Golden Giant Mine," played by the Flora De Voss Co., drew a good house at the Myers Grand last evening. The melodrama is built around the machinations of Duncan LaMoine to get possession of the property. Leo E. Robertson played the heavy villain in a satisfactory manner. The stage business with the cony book between Bessie Fairfax (Miss De Voss) and Alexander Fairfax (A. E. Robinson) in the second act was one of the best features of the entertainment. Tonight the company will present the four-act southern comedy-drama, "Princess Lou." This play in which Miss De Voss appears in her favorite role of "The Mountain Rose," was the one with which the company's engagement was opened in Janesville last year.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM

Wire Out of Order Caused Trouble Last Night.

The Department answered a call from box 41 at 6:30 o'clock last evening, but found that another wire out of place had caused the signal. The boys arrived on the scene in good time but had the trouble for nothing.

Pico's Cure—40 years on the market, and still the best for Coughs and Colds.

FACTORY SITE IS NOW SELECTED

U-Pin It Hook and Eye Company Will Use Woodruff Factory for the Present.

It has finally been decided to locate the U-Pin It Hook and Eye company in the Woodruff factory building at the corner of Ravine and Franklin streets. "This is only for the present," says Mr. Mills, "but my machines are on the road and I want them erected and ready for business as soon as possible. Thus far even when running at Waterbury, we have not been able to keep up with the demand from the jobbers and in Chicago we were terribly handicapped for lack of room for even the necessary machines to stand in. Here we will have plenty of room and lots of power and good light and I expect we will be able to keep even with the demand for a time at least."

Many Machines The company when it is in full running order will have at least thirty machines making all sorts of novelties besides the regular hook and eyes. Mr. Mills says that enough stock has been subscribed to guarantee the amount asked for to move the factory and what he is afraid of now is that more stock will be asked for than he can supply. At present the demands are daily being increased.

LANDED IN ASYLUM FROM STATE PRISON

Thomas Malburn, Convicted of Arson and Sent to Waupun, Is Now in County Asylum.

From the gloom of the state prison to the hopelessness of an asylum is the course Thomas Malburn, a well known Rock county man, has taken. Sentenced from this city for arson he was taken to Waupun, where, soon after his confinement, he gradually became violently insane and after an examination by the prison physicians was taken to the asylum at Oshkosh. It was found that nothing could be done for him and he was brought here and put in Superintendent Klam's charge. His condition is now somewhat better and he is considered harmless, being allowed the freedom of the asylum yards with the other inmates. Thomas Malburn is thirty-seven years old and is well known in this neighborhood.

ALL ARE ASKED TO BE PRESENT

Members of Congregation Requested to Attend Gathering—Interesting Program.

The annual rally of the Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors Friday evening from seven to ten. Following this an interesting program of musical and literary numbers has been arranged which will be followed by a reception during which light refreshments will be served. Every member of the church is asked to be present as the success of the meeting depends largely upon a goodly representation of the entire congregation.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, October 8, 1863.—In consequence of previous engagements, Senator Howe will be unable to visit us tomorrow night, but will before election.

Sanborn J. Bean.—While at Janesville recently and sauntering around that lovely city, our attention was attracted to a lovely block of brick buildings, upon which we detected the name of "S. J. Bean." The name being familiar we dropped in to the store, and much to our gratification found our popular young townsman, Sanborn J. Bean, snugly ensconced in a beautiful salesroom, filled to overflowing with every device and pattern of ladies' hoop skirts, from the cheap, common styles, to the most costly and elegant patterns. Upon inquiry we found that Mr. Bean had just opened a store for the sale of hoop skirts exclusively, and as his stock comprises the best articles in the market, we have every confidence that it will prove a fine paying investment. The sales of this class of merchandise in Janesville alone last year, amounted to some $30,000, and the business is constantly increasing. We congratulate the citizens of Janesville upon this accession to their city of an "A. No. 1" young man, and our young friend we trust will find his "lines cast in pleasant places," with a large and lucrative trade.—Waukesha Freeman.

MARVIN WELCH LAID AT REST

His Funeral Was Held at Forest Home Cemetery, Chicago, on Tuesday.

The funeral of Marvin J. Welch, who died in Indianapolis on Saturday last, were held at the chapel in Forest Home cemetery, Chicago, on Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Mr. Johnson pastor of the Presbyterian church of River Forest, a personal friend of the deceased. In attendance from this city were Mrs. Elizabeth Welch, his mother, and Mrs. Clarence L. Clark, his brothers, Ray F. Welch of New York, and Harry Welch of Brooklyn, Wis., and other relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place, beside his father, Edward F. Welch. The following is an extract from the Indianapolis Star of Monday, October 5: "In the absence of any other reason the act of Mr. Welch was ascribed yesterday to temporary ill health. His friends say he had been happy until a few weeks ago, when he was taken sick. He was not at the office Friday or Saturday. A prescription found in his pocket had evidently been for medicine to relieve nervousness. Mr. Welch is said to have been a man of uncommonly good habits, and had no trouble, as far as any of his friends knew. The work and the books of the young man were beyond question, officials of the telephone company said. A young man of fine mind and physique, in a good position and surrounded by many friends, he had no cause to wish to die, all of his friends said yesterday. He was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, and was much interested in genealogical research, having traced his ancestry back 10 generations to 1579, and was proud of his good family." The death of Marvin Welch is extremely sad, and can only be accounted for as one of life's mysteries that the human mind is unable to explain. The stricken home, bereft of husband and father, will share generous sympathy in the hour of double bereavement.

Effect of Football Changes

Opening Games of Season Give New Rules a Thorough Try Out. Play Is More Open Than Heretofore. As to Tackling.

The opening games of the football season have given coaches and captains splendid opportunities to judge of the effect the new rules have on pluckin' battles. All the colleges have been out on the checkerboard.

A great deal of exciting play has taken place—enough, in fact, to justify the prediction that the season will be a brilliant one.

The new rules, as is pretty thoroughly understood by this time, permit a variation of the usual method of carrying the ball forward. This variation is allowed in the middle part of the field bounded by the twenty-five yard lines. In this section the runner is permitted to receive the ball direct from center. He is, however, handicapped in two ways—first, he must run five yards to the side before crossing the line of scrimmage, and, secondly, there must be seven men in the rush line.

These restrictions, as is easily seen, do not allow the runner receiving a ball on direct pass from center to plunge through the line. He must make what practically amounts to an end run. Nor do they allow him to be protected by mass play interference. The most important change, however, is that whether the runner receives the ball direct from center or receives it through the quarter back he must have seven of his men in the line and consequently cannot avail himself of mass play interference until he is over the twenty-five yard line—that is, within striking distance of the goal.

In the preliminary practice this season more attention has been paid to the old football than to the new for the reason that the methods of advancing the ball when within striking distance of the goal are the more important.

And so it was not until actual games, with the umpire and referee, had been played that any estimate of the new rules was possible.

The result has seemed to justify the expectation of those who predicted more open play. The question whether the effect will be lasting or merely temporary depends upon a great many things.

The prohibition of mass plays in the middle of the field brings about a sudden and exciting change the moment one team gets within striking distance of its opponents' goal. Then for the first time tackle back plays and similar formations are hurled at the line.

The opponents are entirely new to what is coming. They have no opportunity of diagnosing these scoring plays, and the chances of a team scoring when it gets the ball within striking distance of the goal line is thus materially increased.

One minor point with regard to the rules clearly demonstrated by the opening games was the practicability of judging the "five yards to the side" in the quarter back run. It had been predicted that this would be a difficult task for the referee.

On the whole the new rules have brought about an advantage to the smaller teams and to teams which are good in the kicking game. It will no longer be possible for a big team to mow down its smaller opponents in practice games by a succession of mass plays from one end of the field to the other.

The big teams, on the other hand, will be benefited because they will be forced to exploit the straight running game. It is widely believed that while mass plays form the most efficient means of advancing the ball against an opponent they are not so efficient when hurled against an equal opponent. In a championship contest there is nothing like the quick dive between tackle and guard, and the other plays of that nature run from a seven men in the line formation. And the value of these plays, used so extensively five years ago, will come to be recognized this season.

Another result which the legislation of this season will accomplish will be in the line of sure tackling in the open field. The prevalence of open plays will make clean, sure tackling a more important part of defensive work than it has been for several years. The old fashioned dive tackle, in which a man running at full speed left his feet, shot through the air and fastened like a steel trap on the runner, will be more than ever in evidence.

The tendency of defensive work in the mass play game is to encourage slovenly tackling and to lay more stress on simply smashing into a play without following the dive up by "hanging on to" the play. A loose grip of the wrists, however, in open tackling is fatal, and as the season progresses this fault, evident on all fields today, will be eliminated. At present there are very few men who can tackle like Davis of Princeton.

Of the many candidates to report for the football team at Cornell this fall by far the most remarkable is Adam H. Hewettson of Riverside, Cal. Hewettson is deaf and dumb, yet not only is he an excellent student and fully up to the college requirements, but is an athlete as well and strong as an ox. He was on hand to report for the football team at the very beginning of practice, and the determination which he has shown and his great strength and knack for the game will make him a factor in the contest for positions in the back field, despite his great handicap.

When he first reported at the clubhouse for practice, a laughable incident occurred. Trainer Munkley and the various undergraduate candidates for assistant manager were there distributing suits to the players when Hewettson came up. Although Hewettson is an exceptionally intelligent looking fellow, Trainer Munkley stood agape when he began making known his wants on his fingers, and Munkley, to use his own expression, did not know what he was "up against," but one of his assistants knew the alphabet and quickly understood what the young athlete desired. He was immediately fitted out with a suit, and since that time he has been shown every consideration by the coaches.

Hewettson receives the signals by means of signs from the quarter back, who either snaps his knees before he gives the regular signals or signals with his arm, so that the play is understood before the ball is snapped. If Hewettson should not understand the play he touches the full back by his side.

Hewettson will enter as a special student in arts. He is twenty-one years old and enters Cornell from the University of Toronto. He played football on the Toronto university team last year. The fact that he was at Toronto last year will make him intelligible

CAPTAIN JOHN DE WITT OF PRINCETON. [De Witt is probably the best all around football player in the country. His kicking, line bucking and general defensive ability make him invaluable to the Princeton eleven. De Witt is over six feet tall and weighs 200 pounds. His rather young face and slight inclination to stoutness produce a general impression of slowness and give no indication whatever of his speed nor of his remarkable ability at the roughest game in the calendar of sports.]

ble for the varsity at Cornell unless this provision is waived by mutual consent with the teams with whom the Butts play.

In any event Hewettson will continue to play on the "scrub." He declares that he will make a hard fight for the first eleven next fall. Hewettson weighs 150 pounds and is a very fast runner.

TORNADO KILLS THREE IN KANSAS

BABE IS CARRIED FIFTY YARDS

Little One Has Ride Through Air and Is Deposited Without Injury—Farmhouses Are Destroyed and Wheat Stacks Are Scattered.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 5.—Three dead, six dying and ten others injured are the casualties reported as the result of tornadoes which swept Kansas, and it is likely that a return of order may disclose still heavier losses.

The most serious storms struck in the neighborhood of Hamilton, Greenwood county, and Alleville, Coffey county, where five distinct funnel-shaped clouds formed at about the same time. Two of these circled on Alleville and practically wiped it out of existence, every one of its fifty houses being either wrecked or at least disturbed in its foundations. Passing to the southwest, the storm demolished more than one farmhouse, in one instance carrying a baby fifty yards through the air and then dropping it practically unharmed.

Dead and Injured.

Following is a list of the dead: Edith Bailey, daughter of W. E. W. Bailey of Hamilton.

Mr. Gilham, father of Mrs. John Bailey of Hamilton.

Unidentified man.

The fatally injured:

W. Herberlin, wife and child, Hamilton.

E. S. Manns and wife, Hamilton.

William Bruce, Alleville.

The injured:

John Earlwine and three other members of his family, Alleville.

J. W. Atherton's daughter, Alleville.

W. E. W. Bailey, his two sons and two daughters, Hamilton.

Houses Are Wrecked.

Passing over a strip of territory a quarter of a mile wide, the storm took everything in its path, finally spending its fury about four miles from Hamilton, where all the deaths and many of the injuries occurred. Here nine farmhouses were destroyed within a short distance of one another, and hay and grain stacks scattered to the four winds of heaven.

Another tornado is reported from Bear Creek settlement, twelve miles southwest of Topeka, where it is said several houses and barns were destroyed, though no lives were lost. Lawrence also suffered minor injury, the shed at one end of the Union Pacific depot being blown across the tracks.

Wires Are Down.

Heavy storms are reported from all the central parts of the state, but telephone wires are in such bad shape that details of the damage wrought are impossible to obtain.

Joplin, Mo., also sends news of a severe wind and rain storm, which caused several thousand dollars damage and wrecked the light plant, so that the city will be in darkness for several days.

STORM AT OMAHA.

Brick Wall Is Blown Down, Burying Four Workmen.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 5.—A severe wind storm blew down a brick wall at the north end of the Union Pacific shops, burying four men in the debris and injuring many others by flying bricks and timbers. Of the buried men one is dead and the others in a serious condition. The dead:

A. T. Ratcliffe, Lawrence, Kan.

Seriously injured:

L. Pennington, Omaha.

Nat Brown, Omaha.

Joseph Leonard, Omaha.

C. F. Robertson, Omaha.

Mr. Robertson, who is a local cigar dealer, was leaving the Merchants' National bank when he was knocked senseless by a falling screen, but was not dangerously hurt.

Several buildings in the East End were shaken considerably, among them being the five-story building of the Union Pacific headquarters. The newly completed walls of the shop building were being made ready for the roof and were thought to be substantial. The heavy wind, however, crushed them in, causing a complete wreck.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—Peter Myers, aged 70 years, a wealthy retired farmer living at Chatham, Sangamon county, was bunkoed on a wedding arrangement by a woman who sold her name as Annie Smith. Myers met the woman and was smitten. He proposed marriage and she accepted. The two came to the courthouse, and Myers, at the request of the woman, went in alone to get the license. He had given her $10 with which to purchase a new dress, besides some other money. When Myers came out with the license the woman was gone, and he has since been searching for her. Myers returned the license and got his $1.25 back for it.

RICHES AND POVERTY

A great deal is being said, these days about the unreasonable demands of wealth, and it is easy to gain the impression that the world is composed of but two classes, namely the rich and the poor.

These classes are arrayed against each other by a certain class of agitators, including occasionally a governor, and so the lines are drawn, until class distinction and class hatred develop, and a spirit of unrest prevails.

In a New York club, the question was recently asked, "What constitutes a rich man, and as many different answers were given as there were people present, some contending that $100,000 was a comfortable competency, while others maintained that a million or more was necessary.

In the course of discussion the fact developed that many men who are called wealthy, would be bankrupt almost any day if called upon to settle obligations and show a clean balance sheet.

It is possible for a man to be regarded rich, and at the same time be property poor. He may hold large equities in unproductive real estate, where every dollar that he can command is required for interest and taxes, or he may be interested in a great enterprise, that is subject to the chances and changes of all business ventures, but if he is a heavy tax payer and indulges in some of the luxuries of life, he is regarded as rich, and frequently becomes an object of envy.

Corporate wealth is another intangible thing that is often misjudged. A railroad runs through a town, and when an officer's car passes over the line many people have the notion that railway magnates are out for an airing, when the fact is that the car is occupied by salaried servants, who are out in the interests of the company's business. The people who own the railroad are stockholders, and they are usually numbered by thousands and scattered all over the world. A board of directors, whom they elect, manage the business, and attempt to make it pay. A great deal of prejudice that exists concerning this class of corporations, is unjust, because of ignorance.

The great mass of humanity are neither millionaires nor paupers. They belong to the great middle class, the rank and file, and include 10,000,000 well to do farmers in comfortable circumstances. A great army of professional and business men, and skilled artisans, who own their homes, and by thrift and economy add to the accumulation every year. Another class is represented by contented employees, who are satisfied to render an honest day's work for liberal wages.

The rich of this world are the people who are contented and happy, and they constitute the great majority of humanity. The poet expressed the sentiment in its fullest significance when he wrote, "Content was rich and rich enough, while riches endless were as poor as winter to him that ever feared he should be poor."

ONE MAN POWER.

Twenty five good and true men of Baraboo have served notice on Congressman Babcock that they cannot support him for re-nomination, because he is not in sympathy with the state administration.

This notice, which comes in the form of a resolution, is significant, because it indicates that the one man power at Madison, proposes to dictate all nominations from the cross roads justice to members of congress.

It is well for Mr. Babcock, as well as for the people of the state that his plans have been announced early in the campaign.

The people of the third district will have an opportunity to say whether they will submit meekly to dictation or whether they will claim the rights that belong to independent citizenship. It is safe to say that Mr. Babcock will receive his old time support.

There is a limit to endurance, and Wisconsin republicans have reached the limit, so far as the governor is concerned. There is not very much bluster, but men are doing their own thinking, and results will determine that they have decided that Wisconsin is poor soil for the autocrat in office.

The United States Steel company has reduced its quarterly dividend on common stock from one per cent to half that amount. Some of the directors were in favor of passing the dividend on account of shrinkage in the volume of business. The output of the company for the quarter ending Sept. 30th, was several millions less than for the same period last year.

Rev. Hicks, of St. Louis, the weather prophet, has issued his forecast for October. The storms that have occurred were predicted, and the month, like September, promises plenty of rain and wind. Mr. Hicks bases his prognostications on planetary disturbances and his predictions are usually reliable.

Mr. Chamberlain, former colonial secretary, has defined his position on the tariff question, which is now stirring up so much agitation in England. His policy is no tax on food products or raw material used for manufacturing purposes, but a liberal tax on luxuries and manufactured products from other countries. England will discover that the tariff question is many sided.

Rev. William B. Leach, pastor of a Methodist church in Chicago, recently made an attack on Women's clubs, before an audience of club women. His attack was so scathing that he was frequently interrupted, and finally driven from the platform. As he left the hall, he said, he was glad that he was partially deaf, but he managed to hear enough to make him extremely nervous. The reverend gentleman evidently possessed more zeal than tact.

The crank Elliott, who was recently arrested in Washington while demanding to see the president, was a graduate of the school of scullism, the recognized primary department of anarchism. It is a deplorable fact that this horsey ever found root in American soil and that its pernicious doctrines are taught in some of the institutions of learning.

Mr. John Rosart, aged 101, and Mrs. Julia Ann Jenkins, aged 99, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at Gumpoint, Ohio, last Sunday. The groom has six wives in the century, while the bride has four husbands who have gone on before. The courtship of this youthful pair is said to have been full of love and sentiment.

The Cripple Creek mining strike, which has attracted so much attention during the past two months, is causing the state of Colorado an endless amount of trouble. The town was placed under martial law, soon after the disturbance occurred, and the question of authority is now in dispute. While the courts are deciding, the strike goes merrily on, and no prospect of early settlement.

Stockholders of the Chicago & Alton road, are disturbed over extravagant management, and the directors are planning for retrenchment in every department. This means a reduced number of employees, and is only one of many evidences that it is time for both capital and labor to act conservatively.

Boston has shipped 60,000 barrels of apples to foreign countries so far this season. The New England apple crop is very abundant, while Michigan and New York will furnish their full quota.

The question of removing bonnets in church the same as in theatres, is agitating the good people at the "Hub". Some one suggests that many people go to church to look at the bonnets and not at the preacher. There's something in it.

PRESS COMMENT

Chicago Record, Herald: It is well that the Alaskan boundary question has come up when so many other things are going on. Few people are asking to have it explained to them.

Washington Post: Germany has already sold the Sultan of Turkey 100,000,000 cartridges and 170,000 pounds of smokeless powder and is looking for further business in that line. Her hesitancy about intervening to prevent a Balkan war is still a mystery.

Kansas City Star: Professor Langley's statement that his airship is modeled after the extinct pterodactyl is not lacking in verisimilitude. Nobody ever saw a pterodactyl fly.

Washington Post: Attorney General Knox is credited with having compiled a list of bad trusts, which will probably be issued soon like a warning against counterfeit bank notes.

Exchange: It should be distinctly understood that the vindication of the Holstein cow does not extend to the case of the milk dealer who adulterates the Holstein's products.

Mount Morris, Ill., Index: Polo boasts of a man who, though married fifteen years, kisses his wife every time he leaves home. Oregon has a man who can beat that at all hollow. Though married twenty years, he kisses his wife every time he leaves home, besides kissing the hired girl every time his wife leaves home.

Will Meet at Seven-Thirty: The next meeting of the common council will begin at 7:30 next Monday night instead of 8 o'clock as has been the rule during the summer months.

JANESVILLE IS UP IN THE LIST

STANDS EIGHTH IN POSTOFFICE FINANCIAL REPORT.

MAKES EXCELLENT SHOWING

Much Business Is Handled by the Local Office, Compared with Larger Cities.

Janesville is eighth among the Wisconsin cities as regards postal receipts for the past fiscal year ending June 30th. During the year the Janesville office handled $33,050 worth of government supplies, Milwaukee, of course, led with $894,528, and Racine was second with $226,795. Madison came in third with $85,809. But these figures must also take into account the great mailings from the capitol, the university and other state offices. Then two or three thousand students write on an average of two letters a day all the nine months they are there and this counts up. For the size of Janesville it ranks more than well. Sheboygan and Eau Claire are next to it and other cities with more accredited population are still further down the list. Beloit is thirteenth. The list follows:

Milwaukee	$894,528
Racine	226,795
Madison	85,809
La Crosse	78,742
Oshkosh	56,894
Green Bay	45,297
Fond du Lac	33,104
Janesville	33,050
Sheboygan	32,196
Eau Claire	30,557
Appleton	30,242
Ashland	25,771
Beloit	21,650
Kenosha	23,918
Wausau	22,185
Manitowish	21,187
Marquette	20,088
Waukesha	16,364
Fl. Atkinson	15,490
Chippewa Falls	14,828
Stevens Point	11,001

The postal revenues this year for the entire country will approximate $120,000,000, with a deficit of about $3,000,000. In 1902 they were $121,848,047, the deficit being $2,500,000. The general figures for the current year are estimated, the tables having been completed only by states. Accurate returns for the whole country will be made public the latter part of the week.

With the introduction of reforms as a result of the investigation just concluded, it is the expectation of Postmaster General Payne that the annual postoffice deficit will soon be wiped out.

WARNING TO ALL DUCK HUNTERS

Care Must Be Shown in Killing the Birds and Manner of Hunting.

Janesville Nimrods must take this fall not to violate the new hunting laws. They must see that the watchful sleuths from the capitol who are trying to raise a big enough campaign fund to suit the powers that do not slip down and nab the unwary hunter for some petty violation, so that the coffers may be filled. County clerks have done their duty in many cases and have answered the communications sent out asking for information and so the game wardens who must be supported so that their services can be called into play in caucuses and conventions, are on the look out. Rock county will be an especially fine morsel for them if they can catch good reliable republicans violating the law through ignorance. The following is a clipping from the recent laws that it might be well to remember before the hunter dons the canvas coat for a hunting trip.

"It shall be unlawful and is hereby prohibited, for any person or persons to use in the pursuit of any wild duck, goose, brant or any other aquatic fowl, upon the waters of this state, any sneak boat, or boat propelled by an oar or oars operated from the sides or stern of such boat, or any sail boat, or boat propelled by steam, naphtha, electric, or any battery, sluk box or similar device, or to kill or attempt to kill, while occupying or using any such boat, box or other device outside or beyond the natural covering of leaves, reeds, grass or other vegetation growing above the water, any wild goose, duck, brant, or other aquatic fowl, or to construct or to use for the purpose of hunting, outside of such natural covering, or upon the ice, any fixed or artificial blind or ambush; or for any person to use more than twenty-five decoys; such decoys to be personally set and watched by the owner, and to be plainly marked or stamped with the owner's name or initials. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, in the discretion of the court."

All decoys used in violation of the provisions of this section are hereby declared to be contraband, and may be seized and sold to the highest bidder under the direction of the game warden, and the net proceeds of the sale to go into the hunting license fund.

F. Fraundfelder Hurt: While F. Fraundfelder was driving on Academy street last night, the vehicle in which he was sitting collided with a dray which had been left in the road without a lantern in front of the marble works and had all the spokes of one of the wheels taken out. Mr. Fraundfelder was thrown from the rig and received several cuts on his head. He was not seriously hurt.

LOCAL PERSONAL PICK-UPS

Niece Critically Ill: Mrs. George M. Appleby received word from her sister, Mrs. Charles White of Rockford, this morning, that her little four-year-old daughter, Pearl, was critically ill with appendicitis and was not expected to live. Mrs. Appleby went to Rockford this noon.

Marriage License Issued: A marriage license was yesterday given to Bertie Keith, of the town of Richmond, and Ida McArthur, of the town of Bradford.

Say It Was Whiskey: People living in the neighborhood of the barn belonging to George McLean which was burned Tuesday night say that the barrels which were consumed contained whiskey and not hard cider. They say that there were some eighteen or twenty of these casks and that some of the stuff was rescued after the flames had been subdued and carried off in buckets by members of the crowd that gathered there. There is also some doubt as to whether the building was struck by lightning or not. The telephone men point to the fact that no phones were blown out in that vicinity as an evidence that the fire was started in another manner.

WILL PARADE AT MADISON

GRAND ENCAMPMENT OF WISCONSIN I. O. O. F.

LOCAL CANTON TO MARCH

The Capital City, Next Week, Will See the Biggest Fraternal Gathering Ever Held in Wisconsin.

The fifty-sixth annual session of the grand encampment of Odd Fellows will be held at Madison, beginning next Tuesday, October 13, and lasting two days. There will be representatives from Milwaukee, La Crosse, Janesville, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire and in fact, almost every city in the state will send delegations. It is expected that this will be the largest gathering of Patriarchs in many years and much business of importance to the society will be transacted. The usual fare and one-third has been secured on the railroads and while the hotels in the Capital City are likely to be well filled, it is thought that accommodations will be secured for all. The Wisconsin state band has been engaged for the occasion and the sessions will be held in the Turner hall.

Will Have Prize Drills
One of the special features of the encampment will be a competition for prizes by several cantons. These maneuvers will take place on Monona avenue. Chief Patriot Fish, of Madison, says that he has received word from the grand sire, B. H. Kohm, of Milwaukee, stating that the prize for the work had been already shipped from that city. Eleven years ago a grand encampment of this same fraternal lodge was held in Madison and at that time the program was carried out in the capitol building. It is thought that there will be fully two hundred representatives in the city during the meeting.

A Remarkable Order
The Order of Odd Fellows is a remarkable one and few are aware of its rapid growth and the great sums it expends for the relief of its members. It is purely a fraternal order, and these high amounts are spent for benevolent purposes only. The report of the grand sire, John B. Goodwin, which was submitted last month to the sovereign grand lodge in Baltimore shows that at the end of the year 1902 the members of the three links in the subordinate lodges in the United States numbered 1,069,306. There are 151,950 encampment members and the Patriarchs Militant, 17,751. The vastness of the relief amount can only be appreciated when it is known that it means that the Odd Fellows pay out for the benefit of their members on an average of $7.40 per minute, including Sundays and nights, every year. In 1892 the order paid out in relief $3,895,220.04.

The Program

THE FAIR

LITTLE SAID BY LOCAL MEN

Labor Leaders in Janesville Have Given State Employers Bureau Little Thought.

When interviewed this morning concerning the statement made that the local labor leaders were aroused over the fact that the labor bureau could not supply men to take the places of strikers, several Janesville men said that most of the men did not know about the change but that "they might be if they did." It appears that very few men most interested know about the difference in the statute. The new "free employment bureau" law that was passed at the last session of the legislature to take the place of the old law, left out the clause which prohibits the bureau from supplying men to take the places of strikers. M. H. Whittaker said that while personally he did not favor the change, as it was a state department, he thought it but fair that the bureau be allowed to have that privilege. Messrs. McKelvie when asked also said that they did not know the general opinion of the men in Janesville and thought that little had been said concerning the change. They thought, however, that if it was more generally known there might be objections raised.

INTO A TUB OF BOILING WATER

LITTLE CHARLEY HINES IS SEVERELY SCALDED

IN ACCIDENT THIS MORNING

Mother Had Just Emptied the Boiler from Stove When Child Fell In—Condition Serious.

Little Charley Hines, the three-year-old son of Charles Hines, who is employed in the Janesville Machine Co.'s works, sustained a terrible accident this morning. He had been playing in the kitchen of the home on Lincoln street when he stepped backward against and fell into a tub of boiling water. Rescued by Mother Mrs. Hines was some distance away when it happened but heard him scream and ran to his assistance in less time than it requires to tell it. Everything possible was done for the child until the arrival of Doctor Pember, who was immediately sent for. The boy was in terrible agony for some time and the doctor after his examination looked very grave. He hastily dressed the scalded arms and body and the little fellow was soon resting easily.

Right Off the Stove
The tub had been standing empty on the floor a few moments before the accident and Mrs. Hines had emptied the boiler which she had taken from the stove just before the child stumbled into it. His head and face were not injured and there were strong hopes for his recovery this afternoon. The doctor thinks he will not be disfigured.

BARGAIN NEGLIGES—SOME MODISH ACCESSORIES

THIS IS THE TIME TO GET BARGAINS, AND GOOD ONES, TOO.

TILL one can pick up summer bargains, especially good bargains in the way of teagowns and negliges. For styles do not change greatly for these garments, and if one finds something pretty and becoming, one may feel safe that it will be sufficiently in fashion for some time to come. And all through the winter one can make use of the fluffy, light sacks and gowns for home wear, our houses being over-heated to a degree when cold reigns without.

Though wools seem more appropriate for fall and winter negliges, yet many ladies will employ the ones of light mulls and China silks which the stores are selling at greatly reduced prices. And such pretty, pretty things these are that are going for a song; such charming low-necked, elbow-sleeved affairs; such soft, trailing robes. This week we picture two of the many that caught our fancy; a neglige of white crepe de chine, and a little flowered challis. The first would be a very appropriate model for pongee, too; the yoke and top of the sleeves should be of lace, and the velvet linings may be of any color preferred. The velvet employed on the designed for the early days of fall is made of cream serge embroidered in dull rich silks suggestive of the orient, and further ornamented with black velvet ribbon, the long ends finished with silk fringe. The tassels and fringe now so fashionable are very suitable trimmings for these at-home gowns. The teagown described might be made of either cashmere or velveteen, but the serge seems best with the oriental embroidery.

The long shoulder effects concerning which one reads so much and of which one sees so much, are absolutely necessary for those who would dress a la mode. One good way of obtaining the long, sloping shoulder is by the use of a deep collar or cape. When one is able to afford fine real lace for this, well and good; but never wear the elaborate imitations that are at present so depressingly common. Collars and capes of fine batiste are in very good style, and can be procured at reasonable prices. Peterline shapes reign, and the bertha and fichu are approved. In Paris—of all places—there has appeared the modest neck handkerchief of mull, which Quaker accessories seem to belong rather to Philadelphia.

Speaking of mull, there is nothing daintier in the way of neckwear than the hemstitched mull, or very fine linen lawn, turnover collars one sees occasionally. When immaculate and worn with small cuffs to match, they give the ordinary shirt-waist suit an air of neatness and gentility quite refreshing in these days of fussiness.

Another article of dress now noticeable in the world's center of fashion is the very small handkerchief. But it is doubtful if the tiny thing will have much vogue over here.

HEIRS CLAIM 100,000 ACRES IN TENNESSEE

Land Is Valued at Upward of $10,000,000 and Is Dotted With Towns and Cities.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 7.—The heirs of John Sevier, first governor of Tennessee, are laying claim to over 100,000 acres of land in the state, valued at upward of $10,000,000 and on which are now built thousands of homes, several towns and cities. The claim is made that under fifteen grants made by congress in 1795 to Sevier. All of the land had since been granted the state of Tennessee. In addition suits have already been commenced in Alabama and Mississippi to recover 2,500 acres of land in either state on a similar claim. Mrs. Emmett Humphries of Sherman, Tex., one of the principal claimants, is now in this city and has employed attorneys in several sections of the state to institute suits. The grants are now being surveyed. Among the properties claimed are 50,000 acres along the Cumberland river, beginning at the Kentucky state line; 32,000 acres along the Cumberland river, including Gallatin and a portion of the city of Nashville; 10,000 acres on Buffalo river, 1,000 acres on Tennessee river west of Nashville, 3,700 acres in Greene county and other tracts making over 100,000 acres.

KNITTING COMPANY BANKRUPT

Wisconsin Concern Has Liabilities of $250,000, With $150,000 Assets.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 7.—With liabilities of over $250,000 and assets of about $150,000, the Racine Knitting Company of this city, with factories at Beloit, Stevens Point and Ripon, has been forced to file a petition in bankruptcy. The creditors number over 150, with claims from $100 to $15,000 each.

Judge Seaman on petition of creditors in Milwaukee appointed Elbert B. Hand and Andrew Dietrich, both of Racine, as receivers. The receivers were instructed to continue the business and were given permission to purchase material to keep the factories running. The bond of the receivers is for $10,000.

The company was organized in 1891, with a capital of $250,000 by Hyron B. and Aloniam J. Blake, Herbert S. Blake, son of Hyron Blake, acted as secretary and manager.

Sporting Topics.

Tipman of Baltimore Challenges Jimmy Britt & Billings and Lou Dillon.

Joe Tipman, the clever Baltimore light weight pugilist, is hot on the trail of Jimmy Britt, the cyclone Californian. Tipman, through his manager, B. J. Sullivan, states that he would like to fight Britt at 133 pounds, the meeting to take place in San Francisco. "Twenty rounds would about suit me," says Tipman.

Tipman's recent performances show that he is of the improving kind. He has figured extensively in the six round matches for which Philadelphia agree to a match with Hackenschmidt on any terms suitable to the caller.

"I've heard a lot about this fellow Hackenschmidt," said Jenkins recently, "but he has got to show me first. He may be good and all that, but he has to convince the American public of his ability by defeating me. In the meantime I stand ready to arrange matches with any of the other experts, best two in three falls to count."

Billy Roche, manager of Tom Jenkins, has introduced a feature in wrestling bouts which is already popular in England. Instead of offering a man $25 or $50 to meet Jenkins he will donate $100 to the man staying fifteen minutes with the champion or $5 for every minute the corner lasts over ten minutes. Roche says there will be no loser's end, thus insuring legitimate bouts.

There is every prospect that George Hackenschmidt and Tom McInerney of Ireland will come together again on the mat in Liverpool. The pair met recently, and after failing to throw McInerney three times in an hour, as agreed, Hackenschmidt was forced to part with $500. The Russian has posted $500 for another match. This time he insists that the contest must be to a finish, best two in three falls, at any style McInerney may suggest. The Irishman is ready to come to terms provided Hackenschmidt undertakes three times in an hour, as agreed.

Boxing in Chicago

It is reported that boxing will shortly be revived in Chicago and the sports are anxiously awaiting developments.

Clancey Won in England.

Jack Clancey, the California light weight, recently won easily from Jim Davenport in England.

Neill Likes Fighting.

Al Neill has decided that he cannot cut out the fighting game, and is going to take another try.

Sad Surprise for the Doctor.

One of the doctors attached to a hospital of this city excited much amusement by a remark made in all innocence after his return from a week's vacation. He asked the nurse how his patients were, and when she told him gravely that seventeen of them were dead, he said with an air of great surprise: "That is very strange. Why, I left you medicine for twenty-one!"—New York Press.

Not Obligated to Smoke.

Under the new rule West Point cadets may smoke pipes. Probably it is intended that pipes shall conduce not to peace, but to generalship. For the benefit of anxious or alarmed parents it should be stated that the rule does not make smoking compulsory.

Death of British Centenarian.

An authentic centenarian, Viscountess Glentworth, died recently in England, age one hundred years and three months. She was married seventy-seven years ago to the grandson of the Earl of Limerick and celebrated her golden wedding with her second husband in 1897.

Smart Answer.

"I met a half-witted fellow down on Long Island last summer," said Attorney David Rockmore. "He was going along talking to himself. I stopped him and asked why he talked when he was alone. 'Well,' he replied, 'there are two reasons. I like to talk to a smart man and I like to hear a smart man talk.'—Exchange.

Mozart Memorial.

A Mozarthaus is to be built at Salzburg as a home for the great Mozart festivals, and for the music school of the Mozarteum, which is rapidly assuming shape.

BURNS UP MUCH KANSAS WHEAT

Prairie Fire Sweeps Great Area Bare of Vegetation.

Quinter, Kas., Oct. 3.—A great prairie fire which started three miles north of Grainfield, is raging in the territory north of the Salina river. Farmers and residents of Grainfield on the south and Hoxie on the north, have kept it out of these towns and it is now traveling east toward Hill City, destroying much wheat. The wind has been blowing from the northwest and the smoke from the fire can be seen from this place, fifteen miles distant. Much wheat in the stack has been burned.

Farewell Party Given: Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of Park street, who will leave the city shortly, were given a delightful surprise and farewell party at their home last evening. A musical program was rendered and the guests were treated to a jolly time.

Gasoline Explosion.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7.—An explosion of gasoline resulted in Mrs. La Mont and her two little children being seriously burned.

PRESS COMMENT

Philadelphia Inquirer: The women of Kansas have won their campaign for reform in the schools, the principal feature of which was that courtship may be carried on in school hours. The classes in higher education in that state hereafter will be under the direction of Professor Cupid.

Buffalo Express: A Red Bank girl shot at a young man to whom she had been engaged, but missed him and wounded the coachman of his carriage. Her aim was as bad as Cupid's.

Reasonable Excuse.

The Chicago woman who had to go to the undertaker two years after the death of her husband in order to learn what the dead man's name was, did not wholly forget him. She remembered that she had been married to somebody. Besides, Chicago is a noisy, distracting city, where even married people both alive have forgotten that they were married.

JOE TIPMAN, THE HARD HITTING LIGHT WEIGHT.

is noted and has held his own with many of the best 130 pounders of the east. He has knocked out Willie Lowis in two rounds, and early in September he held his own in six rounds with Willie Fitzgerald, who boxed a draw with Britt in Fresno.

Fitzgerald refused to box Tipman a second time, and Young Corbett also declined to have anything to do with the stocky Baltimorean.

Tipman says he will ask favors of no one in his class. He is particularly anxious to meet Britt, and says that he will post a substantial forfeit for weight and appearance as soon as a challenge is offered him to box Britt.

C. K. G. Billings, owner of Lou Dillon, the trotting mare, has announced positively that she will not be allowed to go into a contest with another horse in a trial for supremacy. The owner states as his reason for this decision that Lou Dillon is but five years old and inexperienced in racing.

The mare was shipped with the other members of the Billings string to Lexington to fill two engagements.
She will be taken to Memphis, where she is scheduled to go against the world's trotting record, a trial against time, which will probably be her last for this season.
